Depression is the leading cause of disability worldwide, a major contributor to the overall burden of disease-350 million of all ages worldwide including 5% of the Indian Population suffer from serious medical disorders

Severe shortage of mental health professionals with only 1022 seats for mental health professionals in India

India is at a crossroads between east and west hence in a unique position to use medical and traditional techniques to treat Mental Health issues

A Chain is only as strong as its weakest link. Unfortunately Mental Health is treated almost like an afterthought, especially in all the developing countries around the world. There are no long term epidemiological studies to answer the questions if globalization, recession and changing family structure play a role in mental health of individuals. Maximum improvement in mental health will be realized only by training the non-psychiatrist health providers, who work the largest catchment area of mental illness.
